

Interviewer: Thanks for making time. We're building an app that plans a week of dinners and orders the groceries for you. How do you handle dinner planning today?

Sam: I usually decide on Sunday what we're eating, roughly.

Sam: Last week I threw away about a third of the vegetables I bought because the plan fell apart by Wednesday.

Interviewer: Have you tried anything to fix that?

Sam: I tried a meal planning app last year but I stopped using it after two weeks.

Interviewer: What do you think of our idea?

Sam: That sounds like a cool idea. I like it.

Interviewer: Would you use it?

Sam: I would probably try it if it was easy.

Sam: I think my sister would love it too.

Interviewer: Would you pay for it?

Sam: Maybe. I would have to see it first.

Interviewer: Can I send you a prototype next week?

Sam: Sure, sounds nice.