

Interviewer: Thanks for making time. We're building an app that plans a week of dinners and orders the groceries for you. How do you handle dinner planning today?

Dana: Oh, I just kind of figure it out each day.

Interviewer: Does that ever cause problems?

Dana: Not really. It's fine most of the time.

Interviewer: What do you think of the idea?

Dana: I love it! That sounds like a really cool idea.

Dana: I think it's great that someone is working on this.

Interviewer: Would you use something like that?

Dana: Yeah, I would probably use it. I could see myself trying it.

Dana: I'd definitely tell my friends about it.

Interviewer: Would you pay for it?

Dana: Sure, I would probably pay something for it. It sounds awesome.

Interviewer: Anything you'd change?

Dana: No, it sounds perfect. Good luck with it!
